President's Message

MARCH 2007

From the desk of Ron Goglia, CMDSM - National President

Your recently elected Board of Directors held their initial meeting in January and a primary focus was to continue the Strategic Planning process established several years ago. As I listened intently that day in Houston to the discussions, I was impressed by the professionals that you have elected to represent your Association for the next two years.

It is the goal of MSMA to continue being the preeminent association of Mail and Distribution Service professionals throughout the world. This year will bring many new and exciting challenges to our industry supported by a calendar of events that feature topical meetings focusing on the USPS rate increase scheduled for May; the highlights of Postal Reform and many other forums of interest.

This year also marks the 26th Anniversary of MSMA. As you explore the National Website (www.msmanational.org), you will notice the many benefits and accomplishments of MSMA. Our Education, Membership and Chapter Development Committees are working on several new membership initiatives, including the first CMDSS Exam, which will be administered at the Spring MAILCOM. MSMA welcomed two new Chapters in 2006 - Phoenix and the Carolinas. We look forward to exploring the possibility of adding more Chapters in the very near future.

We highly recommend your attendance at the MAILCOM Conference and Exhibition; an international educational event, where you will gain a wealth of knowledge and information to apply at your own operation and personal career development. For more information, please visit MAILCOM (www.mailcom.org) and register today at your special MSMA rate.

I look forward to serving as your National President for the next two years ahead, and accomplishing the goals/objectives set forward in the Strategic Plan. Recognizing we are an association of volunteers, please consider serving on any number of committees in place by contacting any member of the board. Like any Corporation, we are always looking for tomorrow's leaders and our organization's organic growth begins with you.

Thank you for your interest in the Mail Systems Management Association, and I look forward to seeing you soon at a National or Local MSMA event.

Highlights from our Newest Chapter

The Phoenix Chapter began in January 2006 when my manager Mary Wells suggested I start up a MSMA Chapter here in Arizona. I was very excited, but had no idea where to start. She recommended I talk with Karen Cornelius who is on the National Board and lives here in Phoenix. I called Karen and WOW! what a bundle of energy and inspiration. We got started and had a board together in a couple of months.

Our Kick-off meeting took place on June 21, 2006 with 23 attendees. It was fabulous; our speaker was Lance Humphries, MailCom Executive Director and MSMA National Executive Vice President. In 2006, we had three meetings, including a site visit and holiday event. We closed our year with a total of 41 members.

2007 started off with a prestigious speaker, Rob Martinez, MQC, CMDSS Navigo Consulting Group with an attendance of 13. We have a very exciting year planned with a goal to double our membership.

I want to thank my very dedicated Board of Directors who has given so much time to make our chapter a success, and Karen Cornelius for her dedication and continued support as she inspires us all.

Yolanda Celaya
Phoenix Chapter President

Chapter Development

The MSMA Chapter Development Committee includes Regional Directors, Margie Mitchell, CMDSM (West), David Brown, CMDSM (Southern), Mary Wells, CMDSM (Central), and Linda Henry, CMDSM (East). Rounding out this dedicated and talented group are Frank Cassidy and Barbara Fahy. Please reach out to any of us if we can support your Chapter in any way.

In addition to supporting existing Chapters, we are always looking to grow MSMA in new areas. In 2006 two new Chapters were created in Phoenix and The Carolinas.

Next on the horizon is Seattle, Washington, in response to interest from several of our industry peers that work in the Northwest. We are targeting the week of April 30th for an informational meeting to determine interest and recruit a leadership team. If you have any industry colleagues in the Seattle area, please have them contact me for details at Mike.Lathrop@hewitt.com

Education

We are off to a great start with the new CMDSS certification already receiving tremendous attention from large corporations in the industry. This certification for Suppliers sets them apart as demonstrating expertise in areas including quality assurance, customer relationship management, business ethics, negotiation, selling and presentation skills and other topics salient to Supplier excellence. Get more information from the National Website or contact me directly at kcornelius@msmanational.org.

Another hot topic this year is the CMDSM renewal. We all know how quickly time gets away from us so, CMDSMs, don't put it off. It only takes a few minutes to complete the application online, print it out and send it in. We all worked too hard to earn our credential, don't lose it by procrastinating and missing the December 31, 2007 deadline.

There is always room on the Education committee so if you want to have an impact on MSMA, give me a call and join the team.

Karen Cornelius, CMDSM
